More productive farm animals and healthier, happier pets.

Whether you are farming pigs, poultry, cattle, horses (or any other species) or you have pets or wildlife, there is an application for Protexin. All animals have the same need for a stable healthy digestive system to ensure good health and nutrition, positive growth and viable productive capacity.

For more than 10 years Protexin has gained the support of veterinarians, nutritionists, farmers, horse owners, trainers and studs, wildlife carers and pet owners who have discovered a multitude of ways to maximise the health and wellbeing of their animals.
